

real time

celebrating 25 years of participatory video
with screenings,
projects and events
throughout the year

youth shoots

A new way for young people to get involved in media projects. Regular workshops in video production, projects, screenings and multimedia activities.

new shoots

A filmmaking award which will provide two young people with the opportunity to create their own original one-minute film. They will work alongside professional filmmakers and their films will be premiered in Reading in January 2010.

standup cinema

The best in filmmaking from local to global. Independent films plus screening of locally-made work and networking in the cinema bar.

real time 25 years on screen

Exhibition at the Turbine House, Riverside Museum, Blake's Lock, Kennetside (next to Bel and the Dragon) 9-26 September 2009

standup cinema

linking the local to the global in an informal café bar venue

Standup includes screenings of the best locally-made film and video plus rarely-seen classics, obscure documentaries, cult independents and overlooked modern gems.

Passionate about film? Like to network with established and aspiring artists and filmmakers?

Standup gives you the chance to contribute to future screenings in Reading's first interactive cinema.
